

INTERN DIARY – SHANNON MYREN MAVERICK MEDIA CREATIVE DEPARTMENT

Shannon heard about the internship not from “Internshipmania”, the UW-Eau Claire event where employers meet with potential intern candidates, but from the information sheet I sent to my usual UW-Eau Claire contact, the Communication Arts/Journalism department head. She posted it, Shannon saw it, and she called for information. She was the first intern under my supervision to get college credit for her time spent here. Shannon started in February 2005, working 10 hours a week Tuesday and Thursday mornings, writing spots and getting them ready for air. She was also available Friday afternoons, if needed.
